'Promoting Horticulture - the Profession of the 21st Century'

The FERTCARE training product is being introduced into Queensland shortly.

The AIH wants to have accredited trainers ready to promote the product and provide training to our members, their businesses and other interested people.

The FIFA (Fertilizer Industry Federation of Australia) and AFSA (Australian Fertilizer Services Association) have produced the training materials and resources for the training package.

Any person who is interested in gaining accreditation as a FERTCARE trainer must submit an application to the FIFA/AFSA and have their:

- Knowledge
- Skills
- Experience
- Qualifications – (including a Certificate IV in Workplace training and assessment)

Assessed by the fertilizer governing body and their Registered Training Organisation – prior to being accepted as a candidate for the FERTCARE training program that would provide you with accreditation to deliver the FERTCARE training product.

Anyone interested in getting further information about the FERTCARE training product can access a detailed brochure via the Internet – (using the word FERTCARE in the search engine). Further information concerning the Institutes strategy in relation to this training product can contact Joe Garnham (National Secretary) on 0432 341 338.

Closing date for this round of enquiries is this Friday 25th of June, 2010

Further calls for Expressions of Interest will be made in the future as the training and compliance program progresses.
